Sorry, there was a problem. welcome to our piracy warez. Please fill out the form below and we'll send you access. Free warez . We don't host any torrent files. All of torrent files are provided by 3rd party websites, such as do, mega.nz. However, we do not take any responsibility for the content on any website which we recommended. We only give you access to search the torrent links, which is like a proxy. Access to different shareware domains are not allowed! Your IP will be banned if you try to access any files on the forbidden site from the same computer you've just used for searching torrents.

The DNA sequence of the 6.5 kb segment encoding the ribosomal RNA of the nontuberculous mycobacteria. We have determined the sequence of the 6.5 kb segment of the nontuberculous mycobacteria that encodes the ribosomal RNA (rRNA). The sequence of the DNA segment from M. chelonae ATCC 35752 has been determined by dideoxy sequencing of 2'-terminal oligonucleotides. The rRNA has a 7S RNA leader sequence, an 16S sequence, and a 23S sequence. The sequence data obtained from this segment was compared with those from Escherichia coli and Mycobacterium smegmatis and from the published sequences of other mycobacteria. In accordance with published data, the sequence of the leader sequence was found to be homologous to that of the 16S sequence of E. coli. The homology of the 23S sequences of both organisms were 98%. The base-specific modification of the bases in the leader sequences of the nontuberculous mycobacteria is similar to that seen in the corresponding segments of M. smegmatis, but with a few differences. We conclude that the leader sequence and the main body of the nontuberculous mycobacteria rRNA genes are homologous to those of E. coli and mycobacteria, but that small differences exist in their base specific modifications.
